HDMI Extender Over Single CAT5e/6

APPLICATION

Fenger SX-EX21C is an upgraded version of our SX-EX21B. Now with local HDMI loop out on transmitter device enables local viewing function. Which means you can view the video source locally as well as on the extended end.

SX-EX21C is a neat and simple high definition HDMI extender kit. This kit extends your high definition AV sources from Blu-ray DVD Players, CCTV systems and Set-Top Boxes etc. up to a maximum 50m via single solid CAT5e/6 cables through the wall cavities. The new EDID feature increases its compatibility with players or displays. It supports full 1080P high definition and integrates an infra-red control extender for full controllability from the receiving end.
